

Electronic PRESSKIT

FAITH WANJA

(ONE-JAR POETRY)

My name is Wanja. I fill spaces with poems
ONE JAR at a time.

ABOUT
FAITH WANJA

Faith Wanja (One-Jar Poetry) is a Kenyan poet, cultural documentarian, and communications consultant whose work centres on womanhood, generational healing, identity, and social justice.

She fully immersed herself in the poetry scene in 2024, committing to both craft and stage performance. Within a year, she began featuring in open mics, competitive and curated slam spaces across Kenya, which include Rafinki, Nuetry, Mizani, Poets You Should Know (PYSK), and Poetry Slam Africa Grand Slam.

Her poetry is marked by emotional honesty and a refusal to conceal discomfort. Whether on stage or in print, she interrogates silence, inherited trauma, resilience, and freedom.

She is driven by one question:
Who keeps the record of our becoming?

NOTABLE FEATURES

SELECTED PERFORMANCES & FEATURES

Poets You Should Know Women Slam (December 2025)

Mizani Slam Pop-Up Edition (December 2025)

Poetry Slam Africa Grand Slam (January 2026)

Kitale Film Week Soft Launch (February 2026)

Kitale Film Week Official Opening Night (February 2026)

ONE-JAR
ON STAGE

One-Jar Poetry

One-Jar Poetry speaks to women navigating identity and healing, young creatives, literary communities, and institutions seeking socially conscious storytelling. Through performance and documentation, Faith creates emotionally safe spaces while contributing to the preservation of Kenya's evolving literary culture.

VIDEOS
ONE-JAR POETRY

Watch: When I Die

Watch: Dear HR

TikTok: One-Jar Poetry
Instagram: One-Jar Poetry
Facebook: One-Jar Poetry
YouTube: One-Jar Poetry
WhatsApp Channel: One-Jar Poetry

CONTACT
info@wanjawrites.africa
+254798217463